“ Dear Mike, Judy, Carol, and all the rest of the family -- I saw your mom about two weeks before she died at a rummage sale on her road. She was cheerful and we had a nice visit. I'm glad that she was able to be active and live in her own home right up until the end -- to me that's the greatest blessing one can have! The things I remembered most about your mom is how much she loved you guys and the pride she took in each of you and her grandchildren, how much she loved animals, and how clean she kept her house! I was always impressed with her house keeping skills and for a time hired her to clean mine -- she was always giving me small but polite lectures on how to do things better (always good tips) and every now and then a scolding because I wasn't doing a very good job (lol). She fell in love with one of my dogs and he loved her more than me and so she ended up taking him home one day and gave him a wonderful life -- being an animal lover myself -- I was thankful for the love and care she gave him right up until he died. My prayers and thoughts are with you all during this time of change and adjustment.
