“ I live in Washington State and have never seen Joey (that's what we all called him) the day he left for the service. I am sorry I didn't. I was living in Norway at Romeo Giannunzio's house, my uncle and all us kids, in high school at the time played all kinds of sports. Joey played with us and was very good. We had many conversations that I enjoyed and he will live on forever. He sometimes had a temper when things didn't go his way. He liked winning and it made it more competitive, exciting and fun. He is a person that will always stay in my mind. God Bless..Belgium Town friend Joe Giannunzio

“ To Joe's Family,
I am deeply saddened hearing the loss of a good old colleague and a good old friend. I worked with him more than a decade and travelled around Turkey to visit mine sites. His nick name was the grand son of Karl Marx, in this country. If any family member happens to be in Turkey, It would be great pleasure to meet and get acquainted. We shall always remember and miss him.
God bless you Joe and sleep in peace!
Our sincerest condolences to the Marx family. Sincerely,

“ To Joe's Family.... I am deeply saddened to hear of Joe's passing. I worked with Joe from 2000 until his retirement. During that time, I spent countless hours of business and personal conversations with an individual who so willingly shared his vast insight into the different cultures and practices of the world. As I'm sure is the case with so many people, Joe became an integral part of my professional and personal life. My sincerest condolences on your loss. Sincerely.....Ron Zupancic (Pyramid/Cleveland)

“ To Joe Marx family, I’m writing you these few words to express my sincerest condolences for the loss of a great gentleman admired around the world for his work ethics, dedication, great customer approach, fantastic memory, communication skills , great sense of humour among many other aspects of his personality. Believe me I travelled extensively with Joe in several countries in Africa and was always amazed by his personal specific approach when dealing with people. The cultural differences was always used to build on relationship. I know several persons who would be simply devastated when they will hear this sad news: He is simply a great character who would really be missed.

In Morocco, we were calling him Hadj Mohammed Marx, as a proof of his full integration to our community and my 7 years old son Ismail is calling him Uncle Joe.

I know every member of your family as if I grow up with you all ....I have also the feeling that I also lost such a precious man in my life comparable to a very close member of mine. As we commonly say in my area, we all belong to God and to Him we return. Youssef Boudda
