“ My heart is broken knowing that all of us that love Kristin will never get to share time with her again. She and I got super close being neighbors at Sundog Lake. She was super supportive when my dogs died. Even though she was not feeling well, she made sure to give me some trinkets to help with my mourning. Her smile was contagious and you could always feel her love for others. Her friendship was passionate and you never doubted her commitment. Sundog will never be the same without her. I offer my deepest sympathy to her husband Dave, son John, and parents along with the rest of the loving family she adored. I love you, Kristin! I will miss you terribly! Love, Cheri

“ My family and I met Kristin and her family at their lake cabin this summer. We were walking by with our dog and hers came out to greet us. We chatted for quite a while and Kristin and her family were so sweet and kind. Every time we've been to the lake since, my young daughters always ask if we can walk by the Ross's because "Kristin was so nice and we love her dogs!" She was so sweet with my girls and shared her cheese curds with them. Her kindness stuck with them and it stuck with me too. I'm so sorry to her family, even in the short time I talked with her, you could tell she was a shining star. You're in my prayers Ross family, Sundog won't be the same without her smile.
